

HUB Library officially became the Center for Information - Library of Ho Chi Minh University of Banking

HUB Library throughout its nearly 50-year history of establishment and development has always been associated with the process of becoming a multi-disciplinary, interdisciplinary, and prestigious university of Ho Chi Minh University of Banking. To achieve the vision of pioneering the application of technology in training, research and implementing the mission of creating an educational ecosystem, lifelong learning opportunities, and developing comprehensive, creative learners... focus on The Library's staff has always been united and tried to move towards new values in the digital transformation period.

To successfully implement the development strategy of HUB until 2030 and vision to 2045 in the context of digital transformation and autonomy in higher education, Governor Nguyen Thi Hong of the State Bank of Vietnam issued Decision 658/QĐ-NHNN on Regulations on functions, tasks, powers and organizational structure of Ho Chi Minh University of Banking. In particular, since April 4, 2024, the HUB Library has become one of five centers under the organizational structure of Ho Chi Minh University of Banking with the official name of Center for Information – Library.

With a new name - a new brand positioning, the Information Center - Library aims to bring new values to the HUB. The Center will have the function of advising and assisting the University Board, Rector, and Vice Rectors in administration, supervision of activities, and executive management of information, document, and library management, serving HUB's training and scientific research, complying with the provisions of the Library Law and HUB's regulations.

Mr. Tran Vinh Nguyen, Director of the Center for Information – Library, deployed tasks to the staff after the unit officially had a new name

Along with the new name are the latest development directions and operating strategies of the Center for Information – Library for the next period. The Center is ready for strong transformations, aiming to become a modern Information Center, a smart and creative Library. In the future, the Center will focus on bringing good values and satisfaction to customers based on the support of diverse and rich learning resources. To achieve that goal, the Center for Information – Library places user experience as the guideline to design and develop high-quality services. Typical examples include the service of a search system to find appropriate information, an automated information search and access network; providing specific databases; publishing summary and thematic information publications, carrying out scientific research activities in the fields of information, documents and libraries; promoting the provision of books, textbooks, reference materials, scientific journals, databases and electronic learning materials and many other services to meet the needs of training programs and the HUB.

The Center for Information – Library is ready with a new development orientation and operating strategy